Griffith Would Play Giants

TAMPA, Fla., March 24.—President Clark C. Griffith, of the Washington club, hopes to have the New York Giants train here or at St. Petersburg across the bay next spring, hooking up in a long series of exhibition games, beginning in Florida and ending in New York. The Washington magnate is on the best of terms with the city officials of Tampa. This little Florida metropolis is anxious to boom itself and realizes that one of the best ways is to be the camp of a major league baseball club. The Griffmen are sure to return here until further notice and now President Griffith is seeking to bring another club to this section. The first thing Griffith will do when he joins the New York Giants at Jackson, Tenn., on April 4 will be to go into conference with Vice President John J. McGraw and Business Manager Joe O'Neill. He will lay before them his scheme for setting up a double training camp in 1922. Yesterday President Griffith conferred with City Manager Hall, of Tampa, to get a line on the possibilities, and his head is now racked and jammed with facts and figures to lay before the New York club.

"If St. Petersburg goes through with its plan to build a ball park," says the Washington mogul, "it may be possible for the Giants to train there. If not, the Giants may share our camp here in Tampa, stopping at the Tampa Bay Hotel with us and taking turns using the ball park and club house. There is room for both clubs. In this way, exhibition games might be played in Florida, that would come close to paying all our training expenses. It is the railroad fares that kills the profit now. The Phillies might have made a little money out of their camp here last Saturday, but for the high cost of traveling from Gainesville and back again. The fare isn't so much for one man, but when you multiply that by fifteen or twenty, or even more, the cost mounts rapidly. It is to cut down the expense and still have the team in good condition that I am planning to have the Giants leave Texas and train here in Florida."

GOOD DRAWING CARD.

The Giants are always a good drawing card. That has much to do with President Griffith's scheme of bringing them here. The Phillies would not be the same attraction, were they to train here. Of course, if the Giants decide to accept Griffith's scheme, some other club will be invited, and it may be the Phillies, though Brooklyn will get the second offer.

"I've got all the dope now for a talk with McGraw and O'Neill," says Griffith. "As soon as we hook up with them a week from Monday I'll show it to them. I have every hope that they will see the thing as I do and that we'll both train here in Tampa next spring, and that the Giants will train at St. Petersburg and be able to play exhibition games there and here before hitting for home."

The Tampa club has turned down Tony Marhafka, the little infielder from Shamokin, Pa. He may be sent to Shreveport, La., in the Texas League. Herbert McHugh, the red-headed, red-faced and red-necked outfielder, from Locust Gap, Pa., and Andy Eschmann, the young college infielder, are likely to be left here for Tommy Leahy's Tampa smokers.

Dooby Foss, Tampa's third baseman last year, seems likely to go North a member of the Washington club. The same holds good for Eddie Goebel, though final decision in both cases is being held up for a few days. What both lads do in the practice games beginning here yesterday will have much to do with their fate.

LAMOTTE LOOKS SURE.

Griffith has until April 1 to close the deal arranged last summer by Joe Engel for Foss and Lamotte. The latter seems assured of a berth, but Foss has been compelled to make his showing this spring. It must be said that the youngster has looked pretty good around third base. He is a better fielder than Ellerbe and a fair hitter. If he succeeds in crashing into the Washington line-up, it will be rather because of his superior speed in fielding than for his hitting. But at the same time, he will have to hit pretty well to out an admitted 300 swatter from the outfield. This seems to be the official word for Mr. Foss.

As for Goebel, there is small chance of his being a major leaguer for at least another season, but Manager McBride knows that both Lewis and Miller are reaching the end of their big league days and that he must look toward the future. Bing Miller and Goebel, while not regulars this year, may absolutely necessary in 1922. Miller is now the better player, and Goebel is equally good in the Club Also Elects Officers and Plans Clubhouse in North-east Section.

The Staunton Athletic Club, at a meeting held last night, was formed, with a start of thirty-five members. The following officers were elected, John J. Laverine, president; Charles Eisenstein, vice president; E. J. Moran, secretary; and Joseph A. Rinal, treasurer.

Vic Gauza, former manager of the Champion Nationals and Vigilant clubs of the past, was made manager of Athletics and expects to put a fast team in the field for the coming season.

The near future the club house will be opened for its members and expects to have one of the largest and finest in the northeast section of the city. It is the intention of the club to take part in all branches of athletics with the best teams in the city and vicinity.

The baseball team had its first workout last Sunday with twenty-four candidates, some of whom looked very promising with the outlook for a successful season.

All teams desiring games write to Manager Vic Gauza, 905 D street northwest, care The Sport Shop.

There will be another meeting on Tuesday, March 29, and all wishing to join the club are welcome to attend.

By KIRK MILLER

NOME, Alaska, March 24.—In short distance telephone to The Washington Times.—Primed for today's game like a flivver in cold weather, the Igloos departed, stubby beards and all, promptly at midnight. Skillet doesn't know whether he got here last night or this morning.

The trip via dog power from Sitka was without incident, except that "Foolish" Mahoney insisted on riding on the snow-catcher and got his ears frozen off. They were so red and lifeless this morning that you couldn't tell 'em from his nose.

At the Interurban Reindeer Terminal which connects this borough with Sitka, the Igloos were met by delegations from the Chamber of Commerce, Board of Trade, Kiwanis Club, Rotary Club, Octopus Club, and Associated Charities.

When the social abstinents were over, the chief of police stepped to the front and arrested all seven players and Silly Finn for non-payment of alimony. A collection was taken up among members of the team to un-bark themselves and the indicator at the end showed a grand total of $32.

On a writ of corpus delicti, the personnel of the Igloos was released, subject to an attachment on the game receipts from today's game. Silly Finn was amazed to learn that his last wife was still alive to enjoy alimony and immediately sent her a collect telegram asking for an advance of $1,000 on the maintenance which he still owes her.

Today's game will be played in the unusual but not natty traveling uniforms composed of palm beach cloth and blotting paper. The neckbands of the jerseys consist of ink-screens which are as important item in keeping the perspiration from running down the neck and tickling the player into making errors, faux pas, et al.

The team is only to be here about ten hours; it being scheduled to leave immediately after today's matinee for Dawson, where the famous Jack Dawson is mayor, town council, and fire department, the same as Mike Dwyer in Alexander.

For this unimportant reason Skillet Finn, the stinky old bootlegger, refused to put the boys up at a hotel, but instead, marched them up to the White House Lunch and staked them to a soft-boiled egg in a Cottage City.

Skillet is getting to be tighter than a miser swimming up the Potomac River with a brood of eels under each arm. He is too close-fisted to put free air into a flat tire. His altruistic proclivities are so highly undeveloped that he wouldn't waste his energy by tipping his hat to his wife's mother.

The only more liberal guy in the works than this here goofy Finn is the guy who determined the percentage of alcohol in beer. His philanthropic soul is a total vacuum. He only won yesterday's game by 250 to 112 and he's still pale from the narrow escape he had.

BENNING HORSES FOR BOWIE RACES

Washington Sportsmen to Be Well Represented at First of the Maryland Meetings.

Max Smart will move the stable of chasers and flat runners belonging to Samuel Ross, of this city, and himself he has been training at Benning track over to Bowie this week. Probably two of the most forward two-year-olds that wintered in these parts are in Smart's string. They are sons of Ultimatum, a sprinting son of Ultimatus and Speedmas that might have been a good distance runner if he had sound feet, and Cross Patch and Colleen, which will bear the silks of Mr. Ross this summer. They were bred by Mr. Ross.

Cross Patch is the dam of Crank, a sprinter of the same age as Ultimatum, that will race at Prince George's Park through the impending spring season of the Southern Maryland Agricultural Association under the management of William F. Burch. Colleen is a young daughter of Celt and Utilitas, a mare that has long been in Mr. Ross' possession and has proven a first-rate producer.

These, which suggest their sire in physique and in carriage, are astonishingly fast. They have stepped quarters in better than 25 this spring. Both of them worked in better than 24 when they were tried for speed last fall. They carry a deal of Commando blood. Celt, sire of Colleen, and Ultimatus, sire of Ultimatus, were sons of Commando. Moreover, Ultimatus was got by Commando, a Domino horse, from a daughter of Domino.

The horses Smart will race with seasoned campaigners at Bowie are Cavendish, a three-year-old son of The Curragh and Ireose; Page Brook, a three-year-old son of Bard of Hope and Lydia A.; Optimism, a three-year-old daughter of Bard of Hope and Etwah; Pecan, a four-year-old, and Katie Canal. He may decide to try Harry Payne Whitney's big jumper Leviathan on the flat at two.

Smart is making a jumper of Leviathan. Pecan is owned by James W. Bean and Katie Canal by Smart himself. Cavendish belongs to Admiral Cary T. Grayson and Smart is making a jumper of him. He is a good fencing type. Page Brook and Optimism are owned by Mr. Ross.

OLYMPIC GAMES BRING ROMANCE

NEW YORK, March 24.—A romance of the Olympic games at Antwerp became known today when Miss Alice Lord, member of the American swimming team, admitted to friends that she was engaged to marry Richmond W. Landon of Yale and Salisbury, Mass., who set the running high jump even.

Miss Lord and Landon, who first met on the transport Princess Matoika when it carried the Olympic team overseas, had planned to keep the engagement secret until Landon was graduated next June. Landon is twenty-two years old and Miss Lord nineteen. No date for the marriage has been set.

PARK A. C. CLOSE TO TOP IN LEAGUE

Jumps Into Race With Rex A. C. By Defeating Rathskeller In Three.

Park A. C., of the National Capital Duckpin League, jumped into the running with the Rex A. C. when the Rathskeller five was defeated in three straight games. The scores were 571 to 538, 605 to 543, and 551 to 519. Capt. "Reds" Megaw is confident that Parks will emerge victorious in the race. Perry Ellett rolled a record game of 143, this mark helping considerably in the three straight wins.

Winners in last week's ice cream tournament were the Rathskeller alley were: John Loeffler and Lehouser Johns tied with 133; Jay Mendell, 133; Charles Houser, 146; Arthur Urban, 147; William Cain, 149, and Dick Evans, 141.

The winner of the Mt. Pleasant Bowling League will probably be uncovered tonight when the Diamonds and the Mt. Pleasants hook up in a three-game series. The Mt. Pleasants will enter the match with a game lead on the Diamonds and, therefore, will be the favorites.

If the Diamonds should win the series and capture the league championship it will be the first time in the history of the league that the Mt. Pleasants have been topped.

CALIFORNIA WOMAN NEW GOLF CHAMPION

According to word received from the coast, California has a young golfer in the feminine ranks who bids fair to make herself an important notice. Miss Margaret Cameron in her name and so far this year she has won the Del Monte championship and the northern California championship at the San Francisco Golf and Country Club.

In the first named she defeated Mrs. Van Antwerp, formerly Miss Edith Chesbro, after a sensational final. Mrs. Van Antwerp won the final California title in 1911, 1912, 1916, 1918 and 1920, but when she met Miss Cameron it was to go down to defeat for the second time this season, losing on the home hole. In the final Miss Cameron defeated Mrs. R. A. Ross by 3 and 3.

MONUMENT LOT DIAMONDS IN USE

By Fast Independent Club This Year.

Naval Operators, winners of the District title on the diamond two years ago, are in the field with a strong team again this season. R. T. Harsberger is managing the team.

The Operators will practice on Mondays and Thursdays on Diamond No. 3 on the Monument Lot at 5 o'clock and on the White Lot at 5 o'clock on Wednesdays at the same hour.

The recent addition of Leo Flaherty, the former Eastern High star on the catching staff assures another first-class receiver in addition to Miller.

The temperamental Operators have several seasoned pitchers and about twenty men trying for various positions. Manager Harsberger thinks his team will stack up with the fastest nines in the city.

CENTRAL HIGH TANKERS TACKLE BALTIMORE LADS

The Central High swimming team will clash with the Baltimore Polytechnic Institute mermen on Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Central High pool. The meet is being staged by the "C" Club.

THIRTY-SIX AND 24 DIVISION FOR BIG FIGHT

NEW YORK, March 24.—Jack Dempsey will receive 36 and Georges Carpentier 24 per cent of the "gate" when they meet for the world's heavyweight championship July 2. Promoter Tex Rickard announced yesterday.

When Rickard took over the interests of Charles Cochran's William Brady in the promotion of the big international bout they made a proposition to the boxers that instead of a $500,000 guarantee they accept terms to box on a percentage basis. Jack Kearns, manager of Dempsey agreed to the new proposition at once and Rickard today received a cablegram from Francois de Camp, manager for Carpentier, accepting 24 per cent as Carpentier's end.

BRIGHTWOOD A. C. TRIALS TO BE HELD SUNDAY

The management of the Brightwood A. C. wishes to announce that on Saturday, March 26, practice will be held in preparation for the first game of the season, which will take place one day later. Coach Mike Lynch and Captain Pickles will be on hand to select material for the coming season.
